Mr. Jesse Crosby,
Bartle, Cuba.

My dear Brother:

I have just had a letter from Lorena, in which she says that Frank has been very sick with malaria, and is still not strong. We were very sorry to hear of this and wish that when these attacks come, you would immediately send us word, so that we can pray with you. She also tells us that you and Lula are not very well and we will certainly remember you earnestly before the Throne.

It does seem to me that you would better find some way of closing out things there and getting back to the States again or at least find some means of at least temporary release from the business.

In your last letter, you asked me if I thought there would be something you could do to assist in "Feeding the Sheep" at this time. There certainly is plenty to do along that line and there is a crying need for helpers that can surrender themselves fully to God and look to Him alone for strength and grace to do this thing. There is plenty of reward in the way of kicks and discouragements, but likewise, ample reward in peace and joy and physical blessing., the one thing needful for a perfect surrender and consecration.

We are very much gratified with Lorena's report of her venture into married life and it seems that she must have found a really good man and she seems to have a correct appreciation of him and of her responsibility and I was especially pleased for her to tell me that she and her husband do not dance. This is certainly gratifying, when we recall the great sorrow that her mother caused in our family affairs by inducing sister Nell to take up the dance at the time they went to Cuba.

We are wondering about Arthur. Lorena has not mentioned him, but mamma wrote us sometime ago, something to the effect that he was in very bad shape physically, as a result of that motorcycle accident while in Florida.

Our work here is prospering in many ways and we are very happy in it and we earnestly wish that you could come and spend at least a little time with us. In the meantime, we shall earnestly pray for Frank's entire recovery and for necessary strength for yourself and Lula.

Let us hear from you soon and if you cannot write yourself, have Frank write as he may have more time than you.

Faithfully yours,

CWC: M

Clarence W Crosby
